

ECCLESFIELD in BLOOM

SUMMER JUDGING

Thursday 11th. July, starting at 09:30 am

Here we are again taking part on behalf of Ecclesfield Village, in “Yorkshire in Bloom”, part of the Royal Horticultural Society’s – “Britain in Bloom” campaign.

We have so far been quite successful in this event mainly due to everyone participating in some way. Our members do their bit in ensuring a good floral display throughout the conservation area, and we have been extremely fortunate to have help from local residents who have put baskets, planters, and wheel barrows outside their homes: in fact all sorts of floral displays - some very unusual. All this helps to convince the judges, who like to see that everybody is doing their bit.

This year’s Thursday morning judging follows Ecclesfield’s local bin collection, so it would be beneficial if bins were removed from the road before this. Also, although our in-Bloom members will be collecting litter throughout the area all week, it is difficult to get it all. Any help you can give by picking up any litter in your area would be helpful. Litter is an eyesore and a problem everywhere but we have been more than fortunate to have your help in the past and we ask for it again.

There is a small poster on the other side of this leaflet which we hope you will display in your front window, visible from road. Ecclesfield does receive points for this action so please display.

We will keep everybody informed as to results and feedback both on the noticeboards and on our web site.

Thanking you for your time in reading this and for helping out in any way you can.

Ecclesfield in

B L   M

Summer

2013

Ecclesfield will be judged on Thursday 11th July

You can help us by putting floral displays outside your property on the day to make a colourful impact for the judges as they come through the village.

Please display the window cling in a front window to show your support.

For more information see our website:

<http://ecclesfieldinbloom.co.uk/>

Many thanks